OFFICE OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID OFFER CONDITIONS 2025-2026

Montgomery College helps students and their families pay for college with financial aid programs that include grants, scholarships, loans, and student employment.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID?

Students may be eligible for aid if they meet certain requirements. A student must meet the following criteria:

- Enroll in an eligible degree or certificate program. (Enrollment in at least 6 credit hours each semester is necessary for some types of financial aid)
- Be a U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen; have a valid social security number in College record
- Demonstrate financial need through the federal formula
- Make satisfactory academic progress toward completion of an associate degree or a certificate program;
- Not be in default on Federal Perkins Loans, Federal Direct Loans, or Federal Direct PLUS loans or owe a refund on a Federal Pell Grant or Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG);
- Report all financial aid offered by private sources (such as scholarships, loans, employer reimbursement, and other third-party payments)
- Meet all additional federal, state, and institutional eligibility requirements for financial aid
- Be a high school graduate, GED recipient or equivalent
- Not be concurrently enrolled in high school at any time during the award year. (See “Special Programs for High School Students.”) Students in the MC Dual Enrollment programs are not eligible for federal financial assistance.

WHAT IS NOT COVERED BY FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID?

Students cannot receive federal financial aid to pay for:

- Classes in which students register as “Audit”
- Most repeated classes previously passed and being taken for the third time
- Courses that are not in your declared program of study
- Courses not required to satisfy graduation requirements

HOW FINANCIAL AID IS OFFERED

Montgomery College uses the federal government's formula to determine your ability to pay for your education. We collect eligibility information on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) that you submit to the federal processor. The formula considers your family income (including your parents' income if you are dependent and your spouse's income if you are independent), and other financial information. Federal, state, and local taxes paid, social security paid, and an allowance for supporting the family are also factors in determining your Student Aid Index (SAI). This amount represents what the formula says your family can contribute to your educational costs.

The Office of Student Financial Aid constructs average budgets that include tuition and fees, books, course materials, supplies and equipment, transportation, miscellaneous personal expenses, food and housing. These budgets make up the Cost of Attendance. The Office of Student Financial Aid determines your Financial Need by subtracting your Student Aid Index and Estimated Financial Assistance from the Cost of Attendance (Example: COA – SAI – EFA = FINANCIAL NEED). Your Financial Need is used to determine your financial aid offers and can be viewed on the college portal, MyMC. Students who register for less than six credit hours each semester may not have financial need for some types of aid.

You may use your financial aid to pay for developmental and English Language for Academic Purposes (ELAP) course work. (For additional information, see the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy.) Refer to the on-line college catalog for the credit hour equivalent for developmental classes and ELAP classes.

Files are reviewed when all requested documents have been submitted. We review, verify and make offers on financial aid applications in the date order they are received.

Financial aid is offered pending the availability of funds and student eligibility. Federal, state, institutional and private financial aid funds may be reduced during the academic year depending on the source and level of funds.

Late submission of required forms or forms submitted after established deadlines may affect the amount of aid you can receive and/or your overall financial aid eligibility.

You must report any change in your family's financial situation, school enrollment (including attendance), or additional non- federal and non-state financial assistance to the Office of Student Financial Aid.

Additional financial aid received, decreased enrollment or information received that could impact your eligibility may reduce the Montgomery College financial aid offer. You must report any change in your name, address, phone number, or citizenship status to the Office of Records & Registration.

HOW FINANCIAL AID PAYS YOUR BILL

The college disburses financial aid offers on a semester basis. We authorize all financial aid proceeds, including student loans, to your student account at the College. The offers pay for outstanding tuition and fees for the semester offered, and may pay for charges in the previous semester if it is within the same academic year.

Students with offered financial aid in excess of their charges for tuition and fees may have a book credit automatically processed for use in the campus bookstores. Book Credits can be viewed on-line at MyMC. The college will deduct the book charges from your financial aid.

If you have a credit balance after all outstanding obligations are met, the college will issue you a refund check. You may receive direct deposit of your financial aid refund to your bank account by signing up for "eRefunds" on MyMC. The college begins sending refunds of any balance remaining after all your charges are paid approximately four weeks after the semester begins, if your aid is offered and credited to your bill. Offers from differing sources may credit to your account at different times. In addition, your offers may be adjusted up or down if your enrollment changes. Funds will not disburse until at least 10 days after the class start dates for classes that start later in the semester.

Sometimes the amount of your financial aid is not enough to pay your entire semester bill. If you have an amount of financial aid that is enough to cover your bill, your classes will not be deleted for the semester at the time payment is due. You must still pay any balance that remains after your financial aid is applied. If you need additional financial aid to pay your bill and have not already done so, you may want to consider accepting a Federal Direct Loan. Students are responsible for all charges not covered by financial aid. If you do not wish to take a particular class you must officially withdraw from any classes you have registered for prior to the refund date in order to avoid being liable for those charges.

CREDIT HOURS, CREDIT EQUIVALENT HOURS, AND BILLED HOURS

The college uses your total semester credit hours or equivalent credit hours to determine your enrollment level. Refer to the current on-line college catalog to determine class credit hours.

For computation of tuition payment, some courses may be billed at a higher credit hour rate than the actually credits earned. For example, you may enroll in a course that is billed at 5 hours, but only 4 credit hours are earned. Financial aid only pays for the hours earned and the courses must be part of the student's program of study.

ATTENDANCE AND WITHDRAWAL FROM CLASSES

You must attend all of your classes in order to receive financial aid. The Office of Student Financial Aid must document your attendance in classes. Your financial aid may be canceled if proof of your attendance cannot be provided, even if you have not officially withdrawn from school and still owe a bill for tuition and fees. Non-attendance is considered an unofficial withdrawal from school. Attendance in online classes is documented through submission of academic assignments, completion of exams, or actual participation in online discussions about academic matters.

If you receive financial aid from federal Title IV funds and completely withdraw from MC, the college returns your funds to the proper financial aid accounts on a proportional basis. Title IV funds include Federal Pell Grant, FSEOG and Federal Direct Loans. You may owe a bill for tuition and fees to the college after we reduce your financial aid. The official withdrawal is the date the student withdraws or the documented date the student stopped attending classes. Contact your campus financial aid office for examples of how this process affects the repayment of financial aid. Withdrawing from classes, dropping classes, or failing classes can have an effect on your satisfactory academic progress and ability to receive future financial aid.

BOOK CREDITS

Students whose financial aid exceeds their tuition and fees may use the extra funds to pay for academic related books and supplies at MC Campus Store. Book credits are not additional money. Students must have been previously granted approval for this process through a Cash Management Form. Only aid which is accepted will be considered for book credits. If the only financial aid you receive is a tuition and fee specific award, you do not qualify for a book credit. Book credits are processed automatically for eligible students in August for fall semester, in January for spring semester, and in May for the summer session. Check MyMC prior to the beginning of the semester to see if you qualify. Book credit eligibility and use of book credits at MC Campus Store ends approximately two weeks into the semester.

Communicating with the OSFA

The Office of Student Financial Aid's official method of communicating with students is through their college issued email. Students should check their MC college email accounts on a weekly basis for important information, even during semester breaks.

What Does A "Priority Deadline" Mean?

Apply before the priority deadline and you may receive the best possible financial aid package. Some financial aid funds, such as the Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant and the Montgomery College Board of Trustees Grant are limited. Available funds are awarded to the earliest completed applications. You will be notified regarding your financial aid eligibility before your bill for tuition and fees must be paid.

RENEWING YOUR APPLICATION AND MAINTAINING FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY

You must reapply for financial aid every academic year. Apply on-line at studentaid.gov on or after October 1 each year or when the FAFSA is available. You are encouraged to watch for financial aid news through campus media such as newsletters, student newspapers, or bulletin board displays.

The Maryland State Financial Aid Application (MHEC One-App) is available to applicants who are ineligible to receive federal aid using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). To get more information about the Maryland Financial Aid Application visit MHEC ONE APP FAQs.

To maintain financial aid eligibility, you must meet satisfactory academic progress standards and be enrolled in courses within your program of study required to obtain your degree or certificate. Specific aid programs have additional eligibility requirements listed under the program.

Choosing the Best Financial Aid to Accept

Base on your eligibility always accept the available financial aid that is most beneficial to you in this order.

- Free money first (e.g., scholarships, grants)
- Earned money second (e.g., work-study)
- Borrowed money last (e.g., federal student loans)

INDIVIDUAL FEDERAL PROGRAM INFORMATION

Please note: Your financial aid offer package may not contain funds from all of these programs. Your initial financial aid offers are based on full-time enrollment (minimum registration of 12 credit hours per semester). Cost of Attendance is adjusted based on your enrollment status in each term. If you do not enroll full-time, your Cost of Attendance and financial aid offers may be reduced or canceled, depending on the rules of the specific program.

For financial aid purposes, the College defines an academic year as equal to 30 credit or equivalent credit hours.

Federal Pell Grant

This is the federal government's primary grant program for undergraduate students with exceptional financial need who have not earned bachelor's or professional degrees. We determine your Pell grant amount using your federal Student Aid Index and enrollment level. The maximum Federal Pell Grant for a full-time student (12 credits or more per semester) for the 2025–2026 academic year is $7,395. Offers for students less than full time will be prorated. The maximum Pell Grant eligible Student Aid Index (SAI) is 6645. The minimum award each year is 10% of the maximum award, rounded up or down to the nearest $5. This would put the 2025-26 minimum Pell Grant award at $740.

Pell grants adjust up and down based on the number of current attended hours as of the 20% date of each semester and part-of-term (shorter terms within the 15 week semester). Pell grants will pay for attended, registered hours and classes in your program of study, attended through the course 20% date, as well as classes withdrawn with grades of W, I, F or U. Withdrawals may cause adjustments to aid amounts. Pell grants will not pay, regardless of the amount a student is charged, for classes audited and classes dropped before the course 20% date. Course 20% dates can be found on MyMC. Students may receive Pell Grant funds for summer based on eligibility which may be impacted by Pell Grants received to attend other colleges and universities during the academic year.

Students with a federal status of "Lifetime Eligibility Used" (LEU), or who are close to their LEU, may not receive Pell grants or may receive reduced Pell grants. The federal government notifies you of this status on your FAFSA Submission Summary.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

This federal grant program supplements the Pell grant of students with exceptional financial need. The federal government provides MC with a limited amount of FSEOG to award to students. We base your initial award on full-time enrollment (minimum of 12 credit hours per semester). It may be reduced for less than full-time enrollment or if students receive other grant funds. In order to maintain a semester FSEOG award, students must stay enrolled in at least one class past the 6% date (MC last date for refund) for the semester classes in which they registered. If students withdraw from all classes prior to the published 6% dates, FSEOG will be cancelled for that semester.

Federal Work Study

Federal Work-Study (FWS) is a need-based employment program funded by federal financial aid money. This program gives a number of students the opportunity to work in a wide variety of on campus and off- campus community service positions. Students interested in participating in the program, should complete the FAFSA early and turn in all required documents before the priority deadline. Under the FWS program at the College, students usually work an average of 15 hours per week during the school year. Summer employment is also available. Interested students should contact the financial aid office to verify eligibility and check the College Central Network on the Student Career and Employment Services web page to review available positions.

Federal Direct Loan Program

Montgomery College participates in the Federal Direct Loan Program. Loan funds are provided to students directly from the federal government. An estimated Federal Direct Loan amount may be included in your financial aid offer package. The minimum loan amount that can be processed is $200.

Direct Loans can only be finalized and processed once a student electronically accepts a loan offer listed on their offer notification through their MyMC account. The Financial Aid Office then determines the student's final eligibility prior to processing the loan. Students requesting Federal Direct PLUS loans (parent loans) must submit the appropriate loan request form to the Office of Student Financial Aid, in addition to completing the FAFSA.

All Direct Loan recipients must register for at least six credit hours in their program of study each semester and remain registered at least half time until their loans are disbursed. If you drop below six credit hours in a semester or completely withdraw from school, you may not receive the full amount of your loan or the loan may be canceled. Students receiving Direct Loans must sign a master promissory note (MPN) before loans are authorized to be released to the student's account. The MPN can be signed at studentaid.gov (click Menu then look under the heading "Grants & Loans"). Select, I'm an undergraduate student. Funds will be applied directly to your student account at the college.

Students who graduate in less than a full academic year loans will be prorated (reduced). Students enrolled in all distance learning courses will be required to complete an Identity and Statement of Educational Purpose form.

CONSORTIUM AGREEMENTS

Sometimes students are attending two colleges or universities at the same time. Most types of financial aid can only be used at one institution during the same semester. The institution offering the financial aid is usually the student's home school – the school from which the student is receiving a degree. The school where the student is taking other classes is the host school.

Students who wish to have their credit hours from both schools considered in offering financial aid at the home school must complete a consortium agreement. This is a written arrangement between institutions used to track total credit hour enrollment at both schools. The student initiates the process by contacting the home school's financial aid office and following their procedures. The home school then contacts the host school to certify the hours the student is taking.

Not all schools participate in consortium agreements. Check with your home school to find out the institution's policies and procedures. The home school must complete a consortium agreement. This is a written arrangement between institutions used to track total credit hour enrollment at both schools. The student initiates the process by contacting the home school's financial aid office and following their procedures.
